NEEDED LEGISLATION.

I believe in free scholos, and I deprecate partisanship in the election of educational boards. I believe in amending the lien law so as to simplify the same, and at the same so as to simplify the same, and at the same time protect the contractor, material man, and the wage worker against loss. I believe in amending the exemption law so that the wage worker, who is the head of a family, may have a month's wages free from garnishment or execution. I believe in amending the law authorizing the taxation and collection of costs in judicial proceedings, so that the expenses of litigation may be substantially reduced. I believe that a wise and judicious law should be passed by the legislature enabling counties to borrow money by issuing bonds under proper re-

Liberals for Fusion.

The Liberals have raised the cry in the last few days that there will be but two present situation as existing at present, permit me to say that after the maturest reflection, viewing the present situation in the light of reason and common sense. I am constrained to say that, in impositions heretofore existing, since the causes have been removed, will have a balfell effect upon the business prosperity of the territory, and the political happiness of its people is the tendence of the control of the business prosperity of the territory, and the political happiness of its people is the cause in a surface of the control of the business prosperity of the territory, and the political happiness of its people is the cause of the control of the political in a dividual of the control of the political revolution which I am piessed to believe will ultimately result in the political activation of the people and which will disrole and burly in the political activation of the people and which will disrole and burly in the political activation of the people and which will disrole and burly in the political activation of the people and which will disrole and burly in the political activation of the people and which will disrole and burly in the political activation of the people and which will disrole and burly in the political activation of the people and which will disrole and which have no phace in free and enlightened government, a missing through a control of the people and which will disrole and burly were looking for was on the training the political that has been demands, etc. but we propose to put you on probation to can be saked by the reasonable man is it it charitable to say "you have compiled with all reasonable demands, etc. but we propose to continue the assait upon you?" Should we, weak, fallible creatures that we are assume to search the consciences of our fellow men, and in the absence of proof and in the very face of positive denial condemn their motives as wicked and corrupt! For my own part I cannot and will rot attribute any such motives, under like circumstances, to a fellow being. I believe that these people are, like all others, capable of changing their political ideas, and that by proper treatment, training and education, they will become as valuable and as loval citizens as can be found anywhere in the commonwealth. The Liberal party in the past has called upon the People's party in a spirit of magnanimity and justice to abondon polygamous practices and cease all interference by the church with the affairs of the state, and to organize parties here on national issues, and to conduct the affairs of the state, and to conduct the affairs of the state according to

Mr. Evans Resigns the Attorneyship.
Hon. David Evans has resigned the position of assistant United States district attorney, which position he has so faithfully and impartially filled during the past four years. He was appointed by the United States attorney general on recommendation of C. S. Varian, the present district attorney of Utah. Heretofores hir. Evans has been a strong Liberal and has worked ardently for the success of the Liberal cause. He was appointed as a Liberal to the office which he has just resigned, but when the time came for the division into national perty lines he readily and enthusiastically took up the Democratic banner which is waving on the outer wall of Utah politics.

In his letter of resignation addrossed to Mr. Varian, Mr. Evans sald:

"In taking this step, I beg leave to inform you that the cause which nerves me is the fact, as you are aware, that in this territory there has partially been a division among the people upon national party lines for each with the affairs of the state according to the American idea of government. In recent years there have been unmistakable signs of changes in compliance with these demands, and more recently the church has authoritatively abandoned and given up such practices, and the People's party as a political body, has dissolved its organization throughout the country.

Liberals of Ogden! Is not this the accomplianment of the object in view! Is it not the progress we have devoutedly hoped for! Will you then, at the behest of scheming political soft of will you then, at the behest of scheming political soft of the parties of of defendent progress we have devoutedly hoped for! Will you then, at the behest of scheming political soft of the progress we have devoutedly hoped for! Will you then, at the behest of you.

In his letter of resignation addrossed to Mr. Varian, Mr. Evans sald:

wall of Utah politics.
In his letter of resignation addressed to Mr. Varian, Mr. Evana said:

"In taking this step, I beg leave to inform you that the cause which nerves me is the fact, as you are aware, that in this territory there has partially been a division among the people upon national party lines. While there is considerable difference of opinion as to the propriety of this move! I am one of those who believe that the time has arrived in the social and political conditions of the territory of Utah when this step should be taken. Entertaining this opinion as I do, and realizing by a sense of propriety that the office to which you have appointed me should be filled by some person who is in harmony, politically, with the administration now in power, has moved me in taking this step."

I will grant this. Now let as reverse this picture, and view it from another standpoint. Suppose a member or the influential member of the people's party had,
by invitation or otherwise, come from Salt Lake City, and held a political meeting at which all the ex-members of the People's party would be called upon, and urged to leave the national parties, to which they had recently united themselves, and suppose by threats and menace, and exortations they had succeeded in calling them from their new departure, and to the reorganization of the People's party.
What would be said or thought of it here and by the people elsewhere? At once they would have been justly branded as political traitors, unfit to live in the midst of civilization—irretrievably lost and never again to be trusted. Let me then ask by what right or authority has any following admirable letter of Mr. Evans, accepting the Democratic nomination for the legislative council, was crowded out yesterday:

Hon. H. P. Henderson, Esq., Chairman Central Democratic Countiles, Weber County, Utah:

In addition to, as I believe, in harmony with the platforms thus adopted, I think may be permitted to give you briefly some views which I entertain on national and local questions. I believe in a wise and local questions. I believe in a wise and local questions. I believe in a wise and local questions of our tariff legislation, in order that taxation may rest most lightly on articles necessary for the consumption of the bomocratic and the total proposed which will bear more heavily on articles of iluxing consumed by the wenther chases. Each voter owes it to himself and to his neighbors to cast his vote for the candidate who will elevate our schools to the highest standard, and in that consideration, it should make no difference whether the candidate resides in Ogden, North Ogden or Hooperville. It is practical education and information, not residence, that we want imparted to the children. Mr. Joseph S. Peery's course of studies and graduation at the Reanoak and Nebraska universities, and his experience in the office he already occupies has eminently fitted him for this responsible position, and we confidently recommend him as being the best qualified of the candidates for the office. Each voter should make it his duty to work for Mr. Peery's election. The school children should not be made to suffer merely to gratify the whims of any candidate or party. It won't pay.
